DRAKE CHANGES HIS POLICY.

Chicago Turfman Declares That It Is Folly for a Man to Breed Horses and Race Them, Too.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 10.-Growing out of rumor that John A. Drake would buy celebrated Belle Meade farm in Kentucky has come a denial from Mr. Drake and with it the announcement that he will change his racing policy so far as never again to buy an untried colt.

Mr. Drake is firmly convinced that it is bed policy for a man to attempt to breed thoroughbreds and to race them at the same time. He regards the two as separate business, one being likely to interfere with the other. He believes that more than one failure of a racing stable has been the re-sult of its owner attempting to bred his own

Mr. Drake gave the strongest kind of dehad any thought of buying the farm and I will not be a bidder for it. Please do not misunderstand me. I regard the property as of great value. I would like to own it, and if I were in the breeding business I would certainly offer a good price for it. But I am not a breeder of thoroughbreds and it is not my intention to embark in the

"I have purchased many untried colts. It is the greatest lottery on earth. I have de-termined to let others develop winners. After that is done I will enter the market and I will purchase when the opportunity arises. more untried colts for me, and no breeding farm."

CHUCTANUNDA BREAKS DOWN. Another illustration of the uncertainty of racing was furnished to-day, when the of-ficial announcement was made that Chuc-tanunds, John Banford's champion sprinter, had broken down so badly that he will in all probability never again face the starting flag. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Sanford, the more because of the fact that Sanford, the more because of the fact that Chuctanunda has always been a consistent performer and has thus won a strong hold upon public sentiment.

In spite of the weather, which has made the Baratoga track one of the worst ever known, the present meeting is having a phenomenal success and the play in the betting ring is becoming remarkable for its reck-lessness. No one takes seriously the story that "Pittburg Phil" will leave the turf. He is believed to be wedded to the sport and instead of quitting, it is known that he is attempting to have his rights as an owner of thoroughbreds restored to him.

There will be a meeting of the stewards of the Josey Club this week, at which Mr. Smith's application for reinstatement will be considered.

Smith's application for reinstatement will be considered.

One man whose operations are looked upon with great favor by those most interested in the success of racing is J. J. Ryan of St. Louis, who has a cottage here this year. Mr. Ryan has long been a man of paculiar prominence in the turf world. He was interested in an outlast track less than a year ago and he was the originator of one of the "get-rich-quick" turf information bureaus that flourished in the West up to last winter.

Mr. Ryan's operations in the Saratogs.

to last winter.

Mr. Ryan's operations in the Saratoga ring have been of the plunging variety. He has bet thousands of dollars and it is said that he has made about an even thing of it with the bookmakers, though up to Friday he was well ahead of the game. His wagers are all of the cash variety, though he is credited with being possessed of $1,000,000, most of the bookmakers prefer to have their sealings with him on a cash basis.

HOW RYAN BOUGHT A WATCH. "Jack" Levy had in his hands a beautito buy. It's price was $600.

"I will flip you a penny whether I take it at $500 or $700," said Ryan.

"Done," said Levy. Ryan lost and took the watch at $700. When he goes into the ring to bet Ryan holds his hand over an enormous diamond in the center of his shirt bosom.

in the center of his shirt bosom.

He is supplied by the most expert information from track watchers and, but for the unprecedentedly bad track, would have been a big winner at the meeting.

It is reported here to-night that Drake will make or has made Frank O'Neil an offer to ride for him next season. The boy's work has been so good, especially in the important stakes in which he has ridden, that Enoch Wishard is anxious to retain the lockey for his employer.

O'Neil is now under contract to Newton Bennington and Fred Burlew, his trainer, but the contract will expire at the end of this season. Many think that no matter what arrangement is made, O'Neil will give his present employers first chance to close with him.

Captain S. B. Brown said to-night that he will match his colt. Broomstick, against J. B. Madden's Aristocracy, winner of the Baratoga Special, and will wagen 10,000 to $2,000 on his colt. Insamuch as Mr. Whitney has always encouraged special races this is considered a splendid chance to bring about a renewal of the big race of Saturday, the only objection being the state of the track at present.

PREFERS CHARGES OF CRUELTY Mrs. Mary Eleanor Cochrower

Files Petition for Divorce.

Mrs. Mary Eleanor Cochnewer of Webster Groves filed a petition for divorce in the Clayton Circuit Court yesterday against her husband, George S. Cochnower of Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C.

In her petition Mrs. Cochnower declares that when she came to Webster Groves, in 1891, to visit her sister, Mrs. Louise Fercival, her husband failed to send her money to come home on, and that she had to pawn her jeweiry to raise the necessary funds. She alleges that her husband objected to her staying up at night to await his return and on one occasion when he remained out late he struck her. She also says he pushed her out of her room when she was sick.

date for President.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 10.—Frank M.
Thompson, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, has completed a poll of the State in order to find the views of the leading Democratis on the presidential probability and the platform.

Five hundred letters were sent out and replies to nearly all were received. Mr. Thompson gives out the following figures. Three hundred and twenty favor Judge Alton Parker of New York for the Democratic nomination, 155 express a preference for Bryan; Gorman gets 12. Cleveland 9 and Hill 2 with several others scattering.

The poll shows much opposition to the Kansss City platform, and it is given out that the more prominent Democrats desire the reality state of the Est platform, with such changes as the current affairs have made necessary. Gentlemen, who express a preference for Bryan want the Kansas City platform readopted. In Chattanooga the sentiment is very strong for Cleveland.

Effort to Arouse Conscience and Patriotism of Citizens, Declares Indiana Executive, a Great Step Toward Reform.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 10.-Governor Durbin to-day sent a formal reply to the letter he received yesterday from President Roosevelt concerning the recent mob at Evansville. Governor Durbin says:

"Dear Mr. President: Acting in accordance with the suggestion made by the Secretary to the President, I yesterday tele-graphed you my approval of the communication you have seen fit to address to me under date of August 6.

"In doing this I proceeding on the wellwarranted belief that the commendation you have so generously accorded to my official acts was only incidental to the broadficial acts was only incidental to the broader purpose of your admirable letter, which is a moving appeal to conscience and patriotism, destined, in my opinion, to profoundly affect public sentiment on a vitally important national problem. The effect of such an appeal from such a source is certain to be salutary in its widespread influences. In this instance, as in other emergencies, you have spoken with the courage of conviction, with the eloquence of earnestness and under the inspiration of the clear understanding of and devotion to the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship.

"I feel that you have struck the keynote of a national necessity when you say that 'all public men, all writers of the press, all clergymen, all teachers, all who, in any way have a right to address the people, should with every energy unite to denounce such crimes and to support those engaged in putting them down, and declare the correlated doctrine that 'we must show that the law is adequate to deal with crime by freeing it from every vestige of technicality and delay.

"Your stirring words will serve to press homs upon the people the responsibility which, reaching beyond all those in authority, is, after all, essentially their own. To arouse the realization of that responsibility and all that it implies will be to entirely eradicate conditions which otherwise may soon become, as you point out so cleverly, an imminent menace to the very life of the REPRICENCY HOME RENEFIT er purpose of your admirable letter, which

The boys summoned Patroimen Kilroy and Lavin of the Mounted District, but when the latter arrived Diestelkamp was dead. Through initials in his hat and the mark on his clothes, which were made by MacCarthy & Evans, tailors, his identity was disclosed.

The body was removed to the morgue, where it was later identified by Edward J. Diestelkamp of No. 461A Cote Brilliante avenue. Diestelkamp was 35 years old. His wife, when notified, was almost prostrated. She knew no reason for her husband taking his life. He left home in the morning in good spirits. Before leaving he kissed his wife and baby more than the usual number of times, she says.

Diestelkamp held a good position with the Dittmann Shoe Company and was a steady worker. It was said by some of his friends that he was subject to emotional fits due to despondency.
